LAS CRUCES AND MESILLA VALLEY

EDITOR LAPOINT DIES AT CRUCES

Came From California During Civil War—Lived In Valley Since.

Las Cruces, N. M., March 7.—Lawrence La Point, a member of the famous California column which marched across the great American desert during the civil war, editor of one of the pioneer papers of the southwest and a leading citizen of New Mexico, died Sunday morning at 1 o'clock, after a brief illness.

The biography of Lawrence La Point is the history of southern New Mexico since the civil war. Marching with the California column to El Paso, a veteran editor went to Mesilla, N. M., now known as Old Mesilla. While there he edited one of the first newspapers printed in southern New Mexico. It was called the "Mesilla Times" and copies of the pioneer paper are now on file in the territorial historical society archives. When the county seat was changed from Mesilla to Las Cruces, Mr. La Point moved to the new town and was actively associated with the movements which have developed this city from an adobe cow camp to the modern city it is today. He was in active charge of the Las Cruces Citizen, as managing editor, until last year. His son, Will P. La Point, who was engaged in business in San Francisco, relieved his father's death, and is surviving by a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters. Death resulted from complications caused by old age, although the dean of the New Mexico press was in apparently good health Saturday evening and was planning a trip to California soon. His death removes the second veteran editor from the newspaper field of New Mexico. Col. Max Frost, editor of the Santa Fe New Mexican, having died last year.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced. They will be in charge of the Masonic lodge at Las Cruces, and the local military company and the Phil Sheridan post of the G. A. R. will attend as an escort of honor to the veteran soldier-editor.

FAVOR SITE OF THE SHELDON HOTEL

Chamber Committee to Report On Possibility of New Structure.

It is known that the hotel committee of the chamber of commerce which was appointed to consider the hotel situation and the possibilities for a modern hotel, will make its report in favor of the site now occupied by the hotel Sheldon. This site was voted for over the other suggested, it is said, for a number of reasons, the principal one being its central location to every business house and in the very heart of the city.

The committee will have a meeting this week at which time its report will be made to the directors of the chamber.

FRUIT TREES BLOOM IN UPPER VALLEY

Warm Weather Causes Advance of All Crops—Acreage in Wheat.

Berino, N. M., March 7.—The warm weather of the past week has caused marked advance in all crops, but it hasn't made the alfalfa reach the point reported from Ysleta, ready to cut in a few days. Fruit trees are in bloom and all crops show the effects of warm weather, but no one is expecting it to continue.

Ed P. Cox and wife, of Anapra, were recently visiting friends in this neighborhood.

W. C. Mossman is preparing to drill a well for stock water a mile east of Berino.

Contractor McCarthy, of El Paso, attended the B. A. F. association meeting recently to secure data on bidding of the association's new hay barns at La Tuna.

The cutoffs in the Rio Grande at Earham and Anthony are running good heads of water, at least the Earham cutoff is, and the other was until recently, when people from the La Union district came, and under claim of ownership of land at the mouth, effectually closed it for the time being.

Recent visitors to El Paso included Mrs. Marie Pickard, S. G. Kilgore, J. L. Thompson, Jas. J. Lewis, Carl Price and J. W. Baker.

A large acreage of wheat is being planted at present on the Three Saints ditch, among the larger plantings are those of G. A. Z. Snyman, B. J. Viljoen, C. N. Gibson, W. E. Haines, the Lucas farm company, C. A. Thompson, R. L. Smith, D. J. Jones, Hanson & Beecher, C. E. Miller and the Dairy Farm company. Most of the wheat is being used as a cover crop for alfalfa.

John Viljoen and G. C. Snyman have leased the Bradford Hardie farm for this season.

The school board has lately purchased and installed a complete set of maps, charts and new blackboards in the district school which, under the management of B. F. Newlin, is showing good results.

NEW COURT TERMS OPEN: GRAND JURY EMpaneled. Both the 24th and 44th district courts opened their March terms this morning, as did also the county court.

The first two weeks of the term in the 34th district court will be devoted to the trial of civil jury cases, and there will be a busy hum about the courthouse.

The new grand jury was empaneled in the 34th district and immediately after convening an adjournment was taken until Friday. The grand jury is composed of B. Blumenthal, foreman; W. L. Foxworth, J. L. O'Shea, J. W. Fisher, Jas. Buchanan, C. A. Bassett, Otis Cole, J. H. Laurie, E. B. Welch, W. C. Davis, Stanley Bevan and H. L. Dorbandt.

COURT EXPLAINS VAGRANCY: THEN IMPOSES FINE. What is a vagrant? I do not know what the term means, said several men arraigned in police court this morning. "It means," said alderman Robinson, "that you are a bum, a tramp; that you don't work." Then he fined Ed. Meyers $10 on this charge, because it was stated he had not worked since he left Little Rock, Ark., about three weeks ago.

Richard Smith, a 12-year-old negro boy, was arraigned on charges of vagrancy and stealing chickens, but pleaded not guilty, and his case was passed until 4:30 this afternoon.

Pauline Myer, of Loretta, Las Cruces, is visiting her friends in El Paso today.

CASES OF MEASLES IN EL PASO NOW TOTAL 36. There is an epidemic of measles and whooping cough in the city, but each day the number of cases is decreasing and the physicians do not fear that it will last more than another week or two. This morning there were 36 cases of measles on record in the office of the city health department.

Whooping cough is more prevalent in the southern part of the city among the Mexicans who cannot be convinced of the necessity of the quarantine law, and will not observe it.

WITTE RETURNS TO CITY. Parvin Witte, the tenor, has returned from his concert tour of the Isthmus of Panama, and sang with the choir at the First Presbyterian church Sunday.

ENDS LIFE BY CUTTING THOAT

J. W. Craft, Aged 71, Suffering From Asthma, Commits Suicide.

Falling in his quest for relief from asthma, which he had suffered for years, J. W. Craft, aged 71 years, ended his life at 4:30 Sunday morning by cutting his windpipe with a knife at the home of his son-in-law, J. A. Gumm, 5625 La Luz street, in Government Hill addition.

For years he had suffered from asthma and had traveled all over the country seeking relief. He came to El Paso last December from Kimball, Texas, where he had been engaged in the cattle raising business for years, and did well for a short time, but lately he had been suffering considerably.

During the past week he had undergone such intense pain that he could neither lie down nor stand up for any length of time, and just before the family arose Sunday morning he was driven to desperation, and took his own life.

He was found in his room by his son-in-law, and, though physicians were immediately summoned, he succumbed before their arrival. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Nagley & Kaster, who had charge of the funeral, which was held from the residence of his son-in-law at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Coroner E. H. Watson, who viewed the remains, found that the man had come to his death by severing his windpipe with a knife, but has not determined the reason therefor, and will not do so until the inquest hearing is held Tuesday afternoon.

Britton Davis and wife, of New York, are at the St. Regis. Mr. Davis was formerly manager of the Corralitos properties in northern Chihuahua and he is now operating mines in Durango and at Sabinas, Mexico.
